

WELCOME BACK!

ON SUNDAY, JUNE 29

WEST BERKELEY'S INTERNATIONAL DISTRICT WILL TRANSFORM INTO A VIBRANT FESTIVAL SITE

Last year Almost 15,000 people attended the BERKELEY INTERNATIONAL FOOD FESTIVAL
20,000 attendees are expected to attend this summer.

The INTERNATIONAL DISTRICT, around the intersection of University and San Pablo Avenues, is a concentration of cultural culinary traditions that is unique to Berkeley, a city known the world over for its culinary sensibilities. This small area is one of the densest areas of independently owned ethnic food markets in the region, has many excellent restaurants serving a wide variety of specialty cuisines, and is home to the most globally diverse retail mix in Berkeley.

- Festivalgoers again will visit eateries, food booths, and food markets, along a promenade area running two to three blocks in each direction from the intersection of University and San Pablo Avenues.
- Specialty markets will introduce foods and cooking products to new audiences, restaurants will offer sidewalk sampling and run specials.
- Music, dance, and cultural traditions from around the globe will be showcased at outdoor entertainment stages and at the Freight and Salvage Coffee House.
- An outdoor cooking stage bordered by an open-air market and Spice corridor will feature ongoing cooking demonstrations.
- Along with sales at local import shops additional activity areas will Feature food and vendor booths and exhibits, arts and crafts booths, and community and youth activities.
